

"The Foot of a Fly"

says an eminent English doctor, "will carry enough poison to infect a household." In summer-time, more especially, disease germs fill the air, multitudes are infected, fall ill, die; multitudes escape. These messengers of mischief do not exist for millions. Why not? Because they are healthy and strong—protected as a crocodile is against gunshot. It is the weak, the wasted, the thin-blooded who fall; those who have no resistive power so that a sudden cough or cold develops into graver disease. We hear of catching disease! Why not catch health? We can do it by always maintaining our healthy weight.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, is condensed nourishment; food for the building up of the system to resist the attacks of disease. It should be taken in reasonable doses all summer long by all those whose weight is below the standard of health. If you are losing ground, try a bottle now.

Hot Weather Don'ts

Don't complain of the weather. Complaining won't help it, and you'll be sorry next winter for all the hard things you have said about summer.

Don't wear any more clothes than the law requires

Don't drink anything with alcohol in it.

Don't eat heavily, especially of meat.

Don't be scared if you can't sleep for the heat. You will sleep when sleep is absolutely necessary.

Don't walk on the sunny side when there is a shady side.

Don't fill yourself full of iced water.

Don't quarrel with anybody about anything.

Don't imagine that this sort of thing is going to last long. It never does.

Don't hurry. Don't worry.

Don't run to catch a car. There are others.

Don't shave too close.

Above all things don't ask anybody, "Is it hot enough for you?" There's incitement to murder in that question.—New York World.

A Texas jury arose, after the evidence was all in, and requested that the case go to them without "any lawyers' speeches;" and it did.

"This," remarked the victim, with great presence of mind, as the dynamite exploded, "puts me quite out of countenance!" It was evident at the funeral that if he had waited till he landed he wouldn't have had the face to say it.

TILLMAN SCORES A VICTORY.

Bill to Help the Dispensary Passes by Unanimous Vote.

Senator Tillman scored a rather unique victory today, when he not only secured unanimous consent for the consideration of his bill designed to strengthen the dispensary system, but got that bill through the senate by a unanimous vote, says a Washington special of Thursday to the Atlanta Constitution.

The bill amends what is known as the Watson law, by eliminating from that law the expression "enacted in furtherance of its police powers." It is upon this clause that the recent decision of the courts are hung, it being contended that the dispensary act is not a law enacted in furtherance of the police powers of the state.

Thd act as it will stand, if the house endorses the action of the senate, is as follows:

"That all fermented, distilled or other intoxicating liquors or liquids transported into any state or territory, or remaining therein for use, consumption, sale or storage therein shall, upon arrival within the limits of said state or territory, be subject to the same extent and in the same manner as though such liquors or liquids had been produced in such state or territory and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced therein in original packages for private use or otherwise, and such states shall have absolute control of such liquor or liquids within their borders by whomsoever produced and for what use imported; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as affecting the internal revenue laws of the United States or liquors in transit through a state or a territory."

What will be the fate of the bill in the house is uncertain.
